I am writing this testimonial in support of Itumeleng Ntela's application for a bursary. As an Lecturer who has worked closely with Itumeleng, I can confidently speak to their academic potential, personality, and leadership qualities.

Itumeleng has demonstrated exceptional academic aptitude in their Bachelor of Science in Information Technology program. Her academic record shows consistent high performance across various modules, with multiple distinctions in core subjects like Structured Programming, Object-Oriented Programming etc and ancillary modules. This level of achievement reflects not only her intellect but also her dedication to learning and mastering complex technical concepts.

Beyond their academic achievements, Itumeleng has shown remarkable personality traits and leadership skills. In her role as a student assistant for modules I've taught, she has consistently proven to be reliable, hardworking, and trustworthy. Her ability to go above and beyond what is required has been a standout quality. Itumeleng works exceptionally well in team settings, collaborating effectively with other student assistants and demonstrating natural leadership abilities.
